TEN CENTS A WEEK

ONLY ONE OFFER IS RECEIVED FOR
GERMAN LINERSLarger Ships Bring No Bids
When Auction Sale Is Resumed.21 MILLIONS OFFERED FOR FIFTEEN SHIPS OF FLEETShips Offered One At a
Time and in Groups
Without a Bid.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Contrary to expectation, only one bid for any of the 30 former German liners was received today when the shipping board auction to receive competitive offers was resumed with the ships offered one at a time. A bid of $550,000 for the Osego by E. J. Roberts, Acme Operating corporation, New York, was the only one made for the 16 steamers offered. Commissioner Scott then asked if there was any desire to bid further on groups of vessels and closed the auction when no offers were forthcoming.

The largest ships of the fleet, including the Leviathan, Agamemnon and George Washington, were among those offered individually without attracting offers. Commissioner Scott again informed the bidders that all offers, whether received at the auction or previously, would be submitted to congress before the board took action even if the injunction proceedings in the District of Columbia courts did not interfere with the sale. In addition to the three big ships named, the Mount Vernon, von Steuben, Martha Washington, America, De Kalb, Aolus, Huron, Moccasin, Mercury, Powhatan, Orion, President Grant, Nansemond, Philippines, Wyandotte and the Freedom, were offered individually without any bidders. According to the shipping board calculation the best offers received yesterday represent a total of $21,850,000, which includes $13,100,000 offered for six vessels by the International Mercantile Marine and a total of $8,750,000 for nine ships individually.

GOVERNOR SIGNS ACT TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION

Columbus, Feb. 17.—Governor Cox yesterday signed the Crabbe prohibition enforcement bill. This, like former prohibition enforcement measures, probably will go to a referendum, the laws having previously announced they will force it to a vote. They have 90 days in which to call a referendum petition with the secretary of state.

More than 60 bills still are on the governor's desk for action. Because of the limited time in which he has to act, the bills are being read and cleared over, not only by his executive clerk, Major Pealer, but also by Secretary Morris, former executive clerk Price Russell, and former house clerk John R. Cassidy.

CLUBS ENDORSE
COMMUNITY CHESTRotary and Kiwanis Clubs
Would Provide Fund For
All Charity Needs of City.

A "Community Chest" that will finance for a year the deserving charitable and other institutions of Newark and disburse with tag days and other means of collecting money for these institutions, is being endorsed by the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs of the city. The Kiwanis club endorsed this movement at its meeting last evening and the Rotary club at noon today.

It has been pointed out by the representative committees of these two and other organizations of the city that Newark is continually harassed from time to time by tag days and charitable drives. By making one final drive to support all the institutions that are dependent on the public for support in the proposal of the clubs. Business houses on the square, and adjoining streets, manufacturers and professional men are the chief objects of tag day collections.

It was pointed out that a "Community Chest" would accomplish the following objects:

1. Oversee the necessity of tag day collections, which require time as well as money.
2. Provide a representative committee that would intelligently supervise the expenses of recipients of public money.
3. Do the work necessary at one time and have it over with for a year.
4. It was also pointed out by the committee that this is the method used by larger cities and that Newark should begin developing toward handling its affairs as becomes cities rather than villages.

REPORTS PRAISE

CRAFT PROGRAMOne Report Charges Wanton
Waste of Money
While Another Praises
Work During War.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Condemned in one as "a riot of waste," and defended in the other as a "record of achievement," the wartime aviation program was the subject of two reports just presented to the house by a committee of the special committee which for several months have been conducting inquiries into war time expenditures.

The report condemning the manner in which the program was carried out was filed by Representatives Frear and Magee, Republicans, while that defending the project was submitted by Representative Lea, Democrat. The majority report, at length into alleged extravagances beginning with early aircraft appropriation and ending with the closing out of contracts. It deals with the alleged failure of the De Havilland planes, alleged failure to get any kind of planes to the battle front in sufficient numbers, condemn failure of the Spruce production project in the northwest and the alleged waste of millions in cost-plus contracts and makes many specific charges of inefficiency and wanton squandering of money.

HERE'S STORY WILSON
SAYS IS FALSEHOOD

Paris, Feb. 17.—Although the reply of the supreme allied council to President Wilson's note relative to the settlement of the Adriatic question was drawn up on Saturday, it has not as yet been sent, according to special dispatches from London. Efforts are being made in certain quarters to have it toned down, the dispatch says, but all refer to the president's note as a "veto" statements from Washington notwithstanding.

In writing on this subject, "Perrinax" of the Echo de Paris who is ex-ecutionally well informed, says the postscript of Mr. Wilson's memorandum from which the note was drawn up contained the most brutal menace, that if his warning was unheeded he would withdraw both the treaty of Versailles and the Anglo-Franco-American pact from the "barns of a dilemma" and conclude.

LODGE SUGGESTS
NEW CHANGE IN RESERVATIONSWould Permit President or
Congress to Withdraw From League.OPPONENTS APPARENTLY
FAR FROM AGREEMENTDebate Resumed in Senate and Compromise Efforts Are Dropped.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Debate on the treaty of Versailles, resumed in the senate yesterday with the opposing sides apparently as far from agreement as last November when discussion gave way to legislative business, was expected to occupy practically all of today's session.

Private negotiations for a compromise probably will be discontinued until the debate has run its course and the atmosphere has cleared. Senate leaders were hopeful that the new outbreak, precipitated by Senator Lodge's motion to modify the Republican reservation on withdrawal from the League of Nations, might reveal some means of bringing the opposing forces together after each has had its say.

Under the proposed reservations change presented by Senator Lodge, withdrawal from the League of Nations could be given "by the president or by congress acting alone whenever the majority of both houses may deem it necessary."

LONDON FEARS U. S.
MAY WITHDRAW TREATY

London, Feb. 17.—It is impossible to emphasize the importance and gravity of the results which may follow the supreme allied council's reply to President Wilson's note relative to the Adriatic settlement, says the Mail.

"Anglo-American relations for a generation may well depend upon the terms of the reply," the newspaper continues. "This country is anxious that justice be done between Italy and Jugo-Slavia and between France and Germany. The historic friendship with the United States which is a cornerstone of British foreign relations. We trust, therefore, that moderation and clear sightedness may characterize the controversy so that the very crisis which this country is confronted may be averted."

RAIL BILL IS

Binding—Men Would Be Represented.

Washington, Feb. 17.—Upon the signing today of the final compromise agreement on legislation for the return of the railroads to private ownership through the passage of a bill so to the house, the compromise bill will be under way. Coincidentally with the announcement that the house and senate conferees had practically redrafted the labor section of the bill so to the house, the company arbitration Director General Hines sent a request to President Cuyler of the Association of Railroad Executives for a conference here with him of a committee representing the railroad corporation heads to discuss the bill.

The state and county relations committee submitted a report stating that it had gone into the matter of the communication of M. L. Catman, superintendent of parks, relative to an agreement between the city and a former board of county commissioners and found that in 1914, an ordinance was passed providing for a salary of $10,000 for five months of the year, but failed to find evidence of an agreement between the city and the county commissioners for the remaining three months. The committee found

There is but little change in the situation regarding the epidemic of grip which has been sweeping over the city, with the exception that less cases are being reported by physicians and many patients are reported as improving. It is believed that the crest has been passed but at the same time everyone is warned to be careful and not expose themselves unnecessarily by Health Commissioner W. H. Morgan.

Dr. Morgan gives the following useful hints to prevent a spread of influenza:

COUNCIL HOLDS SHORT SESSION;

Places on City Property In Rear of City Prison—
Urges Purchase of Canal Strip.

City council met in regular session last evening and, owing to the illness of President H. H. Scott, president pro tem P. W. Faust presided. Councilmen Thomas Bader and George Gearhart were also absent. No business of special importance was passed and the meeting adjourned before 8:30 o'clock.

After the reading of the minutes the report of the street committee was read and to whom had been referred the petition of the residents of a portion of Merchant street, praying for the improvement of said street between Tenth and Thirtieth street by grading, graveling and rolling and the construction of a curb and gutter. The committee stated that it had carefully considered the matter and could see no reason for a change in a former recommendation that the paving of Merchant street between Eleventh and Thirtieth street be done with asphaltic concrete.

The state and county relations committee submitted a report stating that it had gone into the matter of the communication of M. L. Catman, superintendent of parks, relative to an agreement between the city and a former board of county commissioners and found that in 1914, an ordinance was passed providing for a salary of $10,000 for five months of the year, but failed to find evidence of an agreement between the city and the county commissioners for the remaining three months. Police Chief James Sheridan has had an answer to his communication from a Chicago wholesale house regarding the young man claiming to represent the concern and selling sugar at a ridiculously low price and collecting fifty per cent of its payment in advance. The Chicago house stated that they had no such representative on the road and in addition did not handle sugar.

ASK INCREASE IN
STATE ROAD FUNDCommissioners Visit State Highway Department to Ask More Money For Utica Pike Improvement.

County Commissioners C. D. Lake and J. E. McCracken are in Columbus in conference with advisory board of the state highway department and will ask for an increase of the appropriation of $75,000 recently granted Licking county for the improvement of the Newark and Utica road.

The commissioners will request that enough money be given them to complete the entire stretch of road between this city and Utica, and in addition they will ask for an appropriation to complete the gap of a mile and a half in the Utica-Martinsburg road. If this program is agreed upon then both roads will be built.

There has been some criticism of the Licking county officials for not making an endeavor to have funds appropriated for the last named improvement, but according to the commissioners it has not been their fault as they allege they were given the $75,000 of state aid conditional that it be used in its entirety on the Newark Utica road and for that improvement alone.

CLASSMATES AND FACULTY HONOR DEAD STUDENT

Body of Denison Junior Who Died Suddenly Monday Is Taken to West Virginia Home By Fellow Students.

(Special to the Advocate)
Granville, Feb. 17.—(The Advocate)
The Baptist church at 10:30 impressive services were held for Oliver Lawrence Brown, the Denison student who died suddenly Monday morning of heart failure. Classes for the remainder of the forenoon were dismissed students and faculty attending the services in a body. The body was taken to the home in Richwood, W. Va., by his room mate Edell Dean, of the same town, and Louis James, a friend of the Commons club, his parents being unable to make the journey here.

Oliver Lawrence Brown was born in Braxton county, W. Va., August 11, 1896, afterward going with his parents to Richwood, where they have since resided. He was a graduate of the Sutton high school and of the Richwood normal school. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Brown and one sister Miss May Brown. He has been two years in Denison, was a member of the Junior class, a member of the Gospel team, of the Ministerial association, and of the Baptist church choir. His ambitions for athletics had been discouraged by Prof. Livingston, who had warned him to stay away from the gymnasium on account of a weak heart. Physicians also had warned him of limitations and to the few who knew him best his death was not the shock that it has been to the college and to the town. His death occurred on the street at 7:20 p. m. Monday as he had started from the restaurant for his class room.

Despite the unfavorable weather conditions the vesper organ recital Sunday afternoon in Recital hall was well attended and warmly commended. The program was well selected and the performance most pleasing. Miss Berneice Brown presided at the organ and was assisted by Miss Reba Jure, soprano and Miss Milag to Hernandez contralto.

Miss Helen Cook, who has been in quarantine for scarlet fever, in her boarding house in Kenmore, has been but slightly ill, and is able to resume her school duties this week on the afternoon of the day.

Prof. E. D. Rupp, who has been suffering from pneumonia, is pronounced much better.

Among the Granville ministers in attendance at the inter church state conference in Columbus this week are Rev. T. P. Chambers, Rev. C. D. Stuntz, Prof. F. G. DeWetter and W. A. Holmes.

Mrs. C. D. Coons and Miss Helen Jure, of her household are both improving after an attack of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Jay Brown, who was suddenly attacked with the flu, is slowly convalescing at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Field.

Mrs. W. C. Elbaum, a sufferer from the prevailing malady, is able to come down stairs and is convalescing slowly.

On account of sickness, there will be no meeting of Arbutus Temple Potpourri Sisters Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John James are recovering from a severe attack of the flu. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kell on Saturday, a son.

There will be a meeting of the managers of the Industrial Baseball League Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A. to consider the revival of the Twilight League.

OHIO CHURCHES ARE CONSIDERED

Inter-Church Conference Opens in Columbus Monday—Needs of Churches Are Pointed Out.

Columbus, Feb. 17.—Condition of churches in Ohio, the United States and foreign countries was the chief subject of consideration by more than 2,000 protestant ministers of Ohio who opened a three day interdenominational conference here Monday afternoon. Every church in the state was represented and practically every denomination has a delegate at the conference.

While the ministers were in session at Memorial Hall, 300 women, church leaders, professional women and girls from senior classes of 40 colleges, opened a similar conference in a local church.

Daniel A. Poling, director of laymen's activities of the interchurch world movement, pointed out needs as revealed by surveys made in Ohio, the United States and foreign countries. He called attention to the fact that vast areas of the world have not been touched by missionary efforts. Results of a survey made in eight Ohio counties will be presented tonight by B. F. Lamb, state survey supervisor.

A report on foreign survey findings by Frank T. Bible, revealed a great need in China of medical missionaries. Eighty-nine per cent of China's sick receive no medical attention, he said.

The committee presented the following: The city owns the land from East Main street just west of the North Fork of the river to the south of the north line of the old canal and on this line is located the city prison, the old electric light plant and from the south line of the old canal bed is located the old gas plant. This property extends to the north line of the right of way of the P. C. & St. L. Railway company, in all about 3 1/2 acres of ground belonging to the city. These two parcels of land are separated by the old canal bed. The east side of this land is exceedingly low and affords an excellent place for the dumping of the street sweepings and other rubbish collected from the streets excepting that which would be classed as garbage. It is estimated that it will take at least 15 to 20 years to completely fill this in, but when it is accomplished it will afford the city a little park, or it can be utilized for the building of something needed by the city, in the future. If the city would buy this canal bed it would give a right of way into the property which would be all in one that the city purchase the canal property for city use as above stated. Two years and one month of the rental now paid for dumping grounds applied to this purchase will pay the full amount asked for the old canal bed, which is $1,000. This will mean a saving of $40 per month.

The committee recommends that the director of public works lease or rent the west half of the gas lot, providing that nothing shall be built, or the ground used for any purpose that will be objectionable to the Baltimore and Ohio railroad company, on account of the passenger station there.

A letter received from the E. T. Rugg company, relative to the exhaust from an engine at the plant, the company stating that it had arranged to have it expelled in a large brick and concrete structure and would have the same covered with gravel which it hoped would eliminate all trouble so that there would be no more complaints.

A petition containing 33 signatures was read, asking that something be done in the way of constructing a sidewalk from Wilson street south of the railroad tracks. The petition was referred to the service director who promised to act in the matter.

The Ohio Power company in lengthy communication stated that it would install a Dutch oven smoker, to take care of the soot and smoke nuisance and invited a committee of council to visit the plant and investigate its operations, and that the company would also be glad to receive practical suggestions relative to any improvements for betterment to assist in avoiding like complaints.

An ordinance by Wolverson was passed under a suspension of the rules granting the right and permission to S. M. Wolfe to install a gasoline tank in the street in front of his place of business at 32 North Third street.

An ordinance by Reeves, Faust and Knauber was passed appropriating a total of $2,680 to the public health fund.

An ordinance by Riggs was given its second and third reading and passed accepting the dedication of property in Merchant street.

Two citizens residing in Race street were present and complained of sewer conditions stating that every time it rained the water backed up in their cellars. The matter will be taken care of at the next meeting of council when plans and specifications for a sewer will be presented.

President Faust announced the appointment of Messrs. Knauber, Riggs and Faust to visit the Ohio Power plant and meet with the officials as suggested in a letter by the latter after which council adjourned.

FOOD ADULTERATIONS.
For some years now a comprehensive food and drug act has been in operation. It is supposed to have stopped the more flagrant adulterations. Yet one constantly reads in the newspapers stories of prosecutions, and of activity of federal officers in pursuit of offenders. Evidently there is a large amount of adulterated food and drugs in the market. The adulterations are of many kinds. Some are of a serious nature, and some are of a trifling nature. ERRORS IN NAMES.

One of the worries of the newspaper man is errors in names of people. Names must be used freely, to give any sense of intimate contact with the affairs being discussed. But when a paper has to use from 100 to 500 names in every issue, often many times those figures, it is some proposition to get all the spelling and initials right.

In this respect the metropolitan newspapers in particular make a mess of it. It is of course often next to impossible to get a person's first name or initials. You attend as a reporter the annual meeting of some society for instance. They elect a new set of officers, and when you get the list, the person giving them can not supply more than half of the first names or initials. In the short time available, it would be a simple matter impossible to hunt these people down to their homes, and verify the names.

A local newspaper reporter in such a case always goes to the limit to get every name right. He digs over his directory and he works the telephone. But quite frequently there will be some name that he simply can't verify in the time available. So he will usually leave out the first name and say simply Mrs. Smith or Mrs. Jones.

That of course is bad form in newspaper work. But metropolitan newspaper reporters have told us that they make a practice in such a case of supplying any common name. If they don't know Mrs. Smith's name, they call her Mrs. Mary Smith. It gets by the desk editor all right, and the error is not important enough so that the metropolitan paper over calls a reporter down for it. But it is in ways like this that the big papers are one solid mass of errors.

If you want accurate reporting, buy the home paper. It is so close to its home people that it simply has to be accurate, or make itself a laughing stock. And inaccuracy is no trifling matter. Once the idea spreads through a paper's force that these little details of correctness are unessential, a general spirit of looseness and lack of precision pervades the whole paper.

EARLY MARRIAGES.

A priest in a Pennsylvania city, recently told his people that there were too many bachelors in his congregation. He felt that every man over 25 years of age ought to be married, and he urged them to look around for wives.

A great many people interested in the best development of young people share this view, and a great many ministers and social workers preach it. The average man becomes a better member of society when he marries. He has an incentive to practice thrift, and to work with all his might. A great many men never amount to anything until they marry.

There is of course the danger that young people who marry early may make their choice before they are old enough to form a judgment of character. Still people who have watched such matters say that early attachments are quite as likely to prove permanent as a later one. The young people have not acquired expensive habits, and can live more simply, without the distractions of society.

The cost of living does place a heavy burden on a young couple. Young people who are willing to start small, live in a few rooms on the outskirts of town, keep a back yard garden and a few chickens, ought to get along well in these times.

The principal trouble occurs where they feel they must keep up with the same bunch with whom they trained before they married. The young fellows who must continue the same sports he used to pursue, is likely to fare hard. He should have new interests and new incentives that will mostly take the place of his old pastimes.

Whatever kind of a tariff they have, the junk business will always be prosperous as long as they publish the Congressional Record.

THE PRICE OF A SENATORSHIP.

(Philadelphia Record.)
A former Governor of Michigan, who thought he would like to round out his political career by a term in the Senate was told by a political broker or agent that it would cost $150,000. He did not demur on grounds of morality, but because he could not afford the luxury. He told another political agent, who was not supporting his ambitions, that he understood the reason for this was that he was betting $25,000 from another aspirant, and he hoped he would make it as expensive as possible for the man who was willing to pay the market price.

And yet it is only a few years since the Constitution was amended so that Senators should be elected by the people and not by the Legislature. The change was made on the ground that the Legislature elected "members of great wealth." The people it was confidently believed, would elect only good men—who are invariably poor—and the corporations would no longer be able to pack the Senate with men who would serve their interests and whose only qualifications were their wealth.

Neither charge against the Legislature had a sufficient foundation. Not infrequently a Legislature elected a man of moderate fortune, and the great majority of Senators had been elected by the people to Governorships or Judgeships, or had served the country in other offices. Very few Senators were taken from their worldly business offices to the finest club in the world. The change in the Constitution has had no visible effect upon the personnel of the Senate. The members of that body are about as well off as members were 20 or 40 years ago. They are not notably superior to the producers in character and capacity. The people don't go out and hunt for modest and impeccable merit. The candidates for the Senatorship are proposed by some caucus or convention, or by a direct primary, which has very generally failed to do what was expected of it. The voter marked his Australian ballot for the man who had been selected by some agency of his party, and Senate standards were not raised.

Since the Constitution was changed we have had two of the grossest pecuniary scandals in Senatorial elections that we have had since a generation or more ago. Kansas, the State of schools and churches, provided the awful examples of the money power in politics. Senatorships are rather more than ever beyond the reach of a modest competence. Where the money has to be spread over an entire State, instead of over a Legislature, it takes more of it. A Wisconsin Senator spent $12,000 to induce the people to elect him. A Michigan aspirant gave up his ambition rather than give up $150,000.

It is most discouraging the way reforms fail to reform.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch)
With the suffrage amendment ratified by 30 states and needing but six to carry, optimists have taken it for granted that the amendment would be ratified in time to permit the women of the country to vote in the Presidential election. The Ohio tangle over the prohibition amendment, in which the finality of ratification by the legislature in a state having a referendum clause in its constitution has been questioned, has always been extended to cover the Ohio ratification of the eighteenth amendment. Arguments on both are to be heard by the Federal Supreme Court, March 1 and it is figured at Washington that should the court decide the legislative ratification had to be followed by a submission to popular vote the effect on the suffrage amendment would be to destroy all hope of getting the amendment through in time for women to vote in November.

Ohio is one of the 30 ratifying states and its removal from the list would jeopardize the hope of getting the number needed. As it is, difficulties are being experienced in getting the six now needed, even some of the suffrage states being held back by local political considerations. It is unlikely, however, that if the Ohio ratification is sustained ratification will be withheld by any one of the two states outside the south. For the same reason it might be expected that should the court require a referendum in Ohio that, with the Presidential campaign on emergency action would be taken to secure. Both the great parties are so frankly angling for the women vote that it is impossible any obstacle that can be raised will be allowed to keep the women out of the election.

AMBASSADOR JOHNSON.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)
Italy is honored by the nomination of Robert Underwood Johnson to be ambassador at Rome. None of the American literati who have been elected to foreign capitals by President Wilson is more eminent than this poet, editor and nature lover. None has a more dignified record of scholarly attainment, and no other American of letters has more actively interested himself in vital constructive work quite outside the realm of literature.

As editor of the Century Magazine, as tireless propagandist in the cause of conservation and as leader in the movement to preserve the wonders of American scenery from the assault of vandalism and commercialism, as prime mover in the international copyright crusade, as author of several volumes of graceful poems, and in many other varied activities Mr. Johnson has proved himself an all round American. But, best of all, he has been consistently and ardently an admirer of Italy.

The new ambassador's advent in Rome will be America's notice that the western republic desires Italian sympathy and understanding. It is not to be denied that the American attitude in the Adriatic dispute has largely alienated the Italians. No American is better qualified than Mr. Johnson to win back Italian cordiality. Already a candidate for the crown of Italy, Mr. Johnson will be in Rome both an avowed and approved friend of Italy and the official representative of the United States.

The Johnson nomination is admirable. It is fortunate that President Wilson could find such a man and that Mr. Johnson is willing to accept so important and responsible a post.

QUAKER QUIPS.

(Philadelphia Record)
Even the fellow with one foot in the grave will eventually get there with both feet. A fellow must be a good bit of an egotist to boast that he never has the wool pulled over his eyes. That chorus girl's voice is in bad shape, said the musical director. "Oh, that's all right," retorted the stage manager. "What's her voice got to do with her shape?"

A man may smoke, or drink, or take snuff, till he is unable to move away from time without it, not to mention how our delight in any particular study, art, or science, rises and improves in proportion to the application which we bestow upon it.—Addison.

An epicure surely is Jonathan Moore. He frequently dines upon frog legs galore. And we can but reflect, as his hoarseness we note, That doubtless the guy has a frog in his throat.

Aunt Caline says:—Vera Strange has come into quite a bit of money and a terrible lot of style she's a-tryin' to put on. She says she's fixed up that house so nice that they hain't a place in it comfortable enough to set an' she's hired a day Lee by the day to answer the door. Says she to her, "Now, Mandy, you bring them in an' tell them to wait till you take their cards an' sea if I'm at home," she says. So yesterday I an' Gran'ma Podnose went over there an' Mandy says, "Where's your card at, Aunt Caline?" she says, which I don't have no card. Mandy she went out in the hall an' stood at the foot of the stairs an' yelled out, "Oh, Mrs. Strange, Aunt Caline an' Gran'ma Podnose is here but they didn't neither of 'em have a ticket," she says.

Married Strangers

A powerful story dealing with a problem being worked out in thousands of American homes to-day—that of the husband and wife who find they grew apart while the man was off to war.

Knowing that Anita and her mother would breakfast in bed the morning following the dance, and fearful of an encounter between father and son, Keith rose early the next morning and appeared in the breakfast room just as Lester Sr., was sitting down to his grape-fruit.

Lester coming in from the garden fresh and clean-cut in his riding togs looked his surprise. "What an early bird you are," he said.

Bennett Sr. rose with his customary dignity, courteously, and touched his daughter-in-law's fingers to his lips. "You are doing us a great honor Keitha," he said, his eyes taking in appreciatively her light morning frock, and a cluster of sun-burst roses in her arms.

"I feel quite like an English heroine," he replied laughing, and she placed the roses in a bowl on the table. "They have such a pink-and-white habit of showing up after late balls and flowers and cherry words, I am afraid most of us American girls have head-aches and curl papers the morning after."

"Not you," returned Bennett Sr. "I have never seen a sunnier disposition in my life."

Keitha reached over and patted his hand, "nice father-in-law," she said "now I know where Lester gets his gallantry."

"I wish I knew where he got some other traits," muttered his father significantly.

Keitha thought it time to change the subject. "Is there any news," she asked Lester who was enveloped in the folds of the morning paper.

All about the dance," he replied, grinning cheerfully over the top of his outspread folds. "Here let me read you this; the beautiful Mrs. Lester Bennett, the most recent bride in smart

Milady's Boudoir

A Carrot Complexion. Most women were told in their girlhood that the eating of carrots would make them beautiful. No one can deny that they are wholesome and they are not expensive, so it is worth a try to see whether or not they bring to one's face the beauty they are credited with making. The fact that they are always in the market and are as good eaten after weeks of storing as when fresh makes them a never failing source of comfort to the housewife of the family which likes them.

If one is put to it to use canned vegetables one can make a very fresh tasting dish from canned peas mixed with cut up carrots that have been boiled until tender. Add a little cream sauce if you like, or simply serve with butter. Never let a day go by without eating quite a large amount of carrots if you wish them to help your beauty. Not cooked carrots but just plain raw ones.

With mutton carrots are almost as satisfactory as with peas. Half an hour before a nice joint of mutton is thoroughly cooked, add to it carrots that have been previously cleaned and scraped. Season with salt and a little onion juice. Carrots may be served the same way with a fillet of beef. A delicious dish of carrots and cream. To make this boil the carrots very tender with plenty of water. When done slice in a saucepan with a gill of cream. Let this boil up once. Add salt and pepper to taste.

It is not unusual for baby doctors to put carrots on the bill of fare for small babies. To make them for the baby select fairly small carrots if possible. Scrape carefully, being rather wasteful in removing the outside skin, and then slice fairly thin and put on to cook with enough water to cover them. Cook slowly for three quarters of an hour or until very soft. Drain and put through a fairly fine sieve. You might put soft cooked carrots for adult baby seekers through a vegetable press instead of the sieve to save time.

Our Boys and Girls

Many parents are satisfied with only occasional obedience. This is not right for a child will soon grow to learn that he need not mind all of the time but that once in a while he often enough. Obedience is essential to happiness and since obedience is such an important factor in each life, how can a parent best teach it to a child.

First let us ask a few questions. Do you govern your child by love or fear? Are you at all times honest with him? Are your demands reasonable, and do you explain why you make certain requirements? Do you talk indiscreetly before your child and admit your inability to control him? Do you require prompt obedience, or do you tolerate disobedience and belated performance of duty?

In dealing with children we should give the reasons for our conduct, if possible. Of course there are some things which cannot be explained, and we should frankly admit it. Study your child and his disposition. Suit your corrections to him, and to the particular act in question. A certain punishment may suit one child and work ruin in the life of another.

Mare's Ears Better Than Its Eyes.
Although the hare has beautifully large and prominent eyes, devoid of eyelashes, and adjusted so that it can see backward and forward, they are not good eyes. Perhaps for this reason it sleeps a great part of the time and always with its eyes open. There is some compensation for poor eyes, however, in the fact that its hearing is extremely keen.

Flaws in Diamonds.
Flaws in the diamond consist largely of black or carbon spots. These are termed of uncrystallized carbon. Nature in the case of the spotted diamond stayed her hand before she had completed the process of perfect crystallization.

The Hangar.
Many people think that the airplane word "hangar" is an affectation and is the late adaptation of a French word. A look into the Standard dictionary will reveal the fact that Thackeray uses the word and that it means a shed, not primarily a place to hang a dirigible.—Hartford Courant.

Optimistic Thought.
Good temper is like a sunny day. It sheds its brightness on everything.

Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, Feb. 17.—Packers' predictions of lower prices for meats had a bearish effect today on the corn market. The opening which ranged from 3 3/8 to 2 cents lower with May 1 3/4 to 1 1/2 and July 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 7-8 were followed by a slight further setback and then by moderate upturns. Cattle sympathized with the weakness of corn. After opening 1 1/4 to 3 1/4 down, including May at 81 1/2 to 81 5/8, the market sagged a little more and then recovered.

Provisions were decidedly lower in response to bearish views of packers. Besides, the semi-monthly warehouse report showed unusually big stocks of lard and ribs on hand.

Wall Street.
New York, Feb. 17.—High priced specialties were subjected to renewed pressures at the opening of today's stock market, the general list also displaying further heaviness. Crucible Steel dropped 6 1/2 points in the first few minutes of the desultory trading and General Motors lost 3 1/2 points. Oils were irregular. Texas company gaining two points while Standard Petroleum and Pan American Petroleum fell back. Equipments, shippings and textiles registered fractional recessions and rails were hesitant within narrow limits.
The market came almost to a standstill before the end of the first hour, many stocks meanwhile having fallen to lower levels with early leaders in the decline. Motors and their accessories were steadily offered at losses of 1 to 4 points. Rallies of 1 to 3 points accompanied the lowering of the initial call money rate to 6 per cent, a few important issues, notably oils, making full recoveries before noon.

"The Bird of Paradise" Tonight. Grand yesterday pleased two big houses and gave the best satisfaction of any musical show so far this season. The repeated visits to "The Bird of Paradise" which comes to the Auditorium this evening convince one that it can never become stale and the capacity great success it was—Chattanooga will audiences that greet it in every city produced. its charm. The elemental passions are touched in it, but also the elemental graces, and the heights and the depths are moved in all who follow the sea-saw of life which is depicted. One angel ascends the Jacob's ladder of life—one descends and it is all set in the picturesque, marvelous, fabulous, but convincing realism of the sunny isles of the Pacific Ocean. There was never such a play since Shakespeare's "Tempest" and there is a good deal of the same spirit in the background of Mr. Tully's modern drama. The cast Oliver Morosco its producer has selected for the present season is in many respects superior to any that has ever sent en-tour. The Hawaiian play-ers who form a part of the cast with their singing and playing are an attraction by themselves. Seats are selling.

W. S. Hart. Those who love big fights in motion pictures will find satisfaction in "Rid-die Gawne." William S. Hart's new Artercraft picture coming to the Auditorium theater. There is a struggle between the hero and the chief villain that is one of the most exciting that has ever been seen on the screen. Of course Mr. Hart triumphs, but not until he has fought to the finish, almost. There is love in the story, and the wonderful free spirit of the great open West. It is rugged and yet never for an instant is it lacking in plausibility or sufficient motive.

wealth and social position, by contriving the marriage of her sister to some man of wealth. She however, wed a poor British army officer, who a year after the wedding, goes to the front and soon is reported as missing. The mind wrecked and nearly dead, he strays back into the British lines, where later his wife rejoins him and restores his memory by singing, "Bonnie Sweet Home," the song they used to sing in their courtship days.

The production, which was seen at the Alhambra yesterday, is said to be one of the best Mr. Blackton has as yet produced. (Continued on Page 10, Col. 4)

LESSONS IN OPTOMETRY

LESSON FOUR

Question—In the last lesson astigmatism was mentioned. What causes it?
 Answer—Astigmatism is caused by the eyeball being imperfectly shaped.
 Question—With what result to the patient?
 Answer—If the astigmatism is pronounced, objects appear distorted to him. If the astigmatism is slight, the muscles of the eyes may be able to overcome it, and objects may appear clear and distinct.
 Question—If a person with a slight degree of astigmatism sees objects clearly, in what way is this defect a detriment to him?
 Answer—As before explained, a slight error may be overcome, but in accomplishing this the muscles of the eyes are unduly strained, which often causes a nervous reflex.
 Question—What is a nervous reflex?
 Answer—It is an annoying result of eye strain, which through the nervous system may be manifested in headaches, nervousness and other disorders.

Suggestions for Spring

Radiate From Every Department

ALL through the store the first arrivals of spring merchandise invite your attention, and we will take great pleasure in showing you at your earliest convenience—the new things for spring of 1920.

Spring Styles—
are especially interesting just now at the beginning of the new season.

Perhaps you are most interested in a new suit—the styles are very pleasing—models in plain tailored—vest or blouse effect, button or braid trimmed, or it may be a new dress. The materials alone are unusually handsome, including Georgette—tricotette—crepe meteor—crepe de chine—foulards and combinations. Short sleeves—pleated ruffles, fancy beadings and embroideries—fancy lace collars and vestees all add a dainty finish to every model. And the NEW COATS—NEW SKIRTS and NEW WAISTS all come in for a share of admiration when you are looking at the new styles.

Then take a look at the new silks—fancy vestings—sport satins—wool skirting plaids and other fine wool fabrics.

The new wash fabrics must not be overlooked—most attractive are the wonderful combinations of colors shown in fine voiles—and the striking plaids in fine ginghams.

WE HOPE TO HAVE THE PLEASURE OF SOON SHOWING YOU—WHAT IS NEW FOR SPRING.

PUBLIC PRAISE FROM ONE WHO GAINED RELIEF

Mrs. Ryan Admits That Trutona Is Cause of Improved Condition.

Delaware, O., Feb. 16.—Delaware residents have not been slow to recognize Trutona's unusual merit and are now publicly praising the perfect Tonic. Mrs. Mary Ryan, who lives at 24 South Henry street says:

"For the past four years I have been and nervousness. I ate but little food and was troubled with heart trouble as my appetite was very poor, and even then gas would form in my stomach causing me to feel bloated and to belch annoyingly. I had a severe pain in my right breast at times it was impossible for me to sleep the whole night through. I felt tired all the time and was completely run down."

"In the few weeks that I have taken Trutona I know that I have found a medicine that is really helping me and one that will rid me of my trouble. I feel very much better now. My appetite is much improved and I am not annoyed with the former bloating and belching. My nerves have become steady and I sleep soundly at night. In short Trutona has actually done me good and I am glad to recommend it."

Trutona is now being introduced and explained at W. F. Egan's Drug Store.—Adv.

HYPNO-COD BUILT HER UP

I felt aimless, and good for nothing all day and all night long. Earle's Hypno-Cod put me back on my feet though in just a few days. I can now do everything I want to. A neighbor next door said only yesterday she was getting a bottle," declared Mrs. Ella Carter, 877 Pennsylvania Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

"I sure do feel better now," continued Mrs. Carter. "I eat everything, sleep good, get up feeling rested and go ahead with my housework and never mind it at all. It surely helped me build and more than anything I ever used."

Thousands are getting over a spell of long wasting illness, get back on their feet days and weeks sooner by using this new and much more powerful tonic. It fortifies the system and quickly too against the complications that are apt to set in while you are in a rundown weakened condition. Go down to the drug store tonight and secure a bottle. "The Law of the North." From every angle, the latest Paramount photoplay, in which Charles Ray will be seen at the Alhambra Wednesday and Thursday, is said to be one of the finest pictures produced by the studio in many months. The scenes of the production are laid in the far North and the story, written by Ella Stuart Carson, is described as being unusually heart appealing.

Alain de Montcalm, son of the commandant of a trading post "at the top of the world," returns home to learn that his father has been slain by Le Noir, known as the "Wolf," and his sister, Virginia, is missing. He has previously met and fallen in love with Therese, the daughter of Le Noir, and love and duty struggle for the mastery in the play—but when the young girl announces her engagement, he blurs out "What's that," giving away the secret of his "deadness."

"The Girl From Outside," a new Rex Beach production made for Goldwyn, will be shown at the Alhambra theater commencing Friday a lot of good clean comedy is to be found.

Deaf Mute, played cleverly by Walter MacNamara, is a character that creates a number of amusing situations. He hears just what he wants to, and in one instance June secures an ear trumpet for him and he has much fun in interpreting the remarks of characters in the play—but when the young girl announces her engagement, he blurts out "What's that," giving away the secret of his "deadness."

Last Night's Show. A splendid company of singers presented "The Chocolate Soldier" at the Auditorium theater to a rather small but appreciative audience last evening. The story by Bernard Shaw and music by Oscar Straus is not a new one and has been heard in the city before. That fact, perhaps, coupled with the extreme cold weather, kept many away from the theater. The soloists with the company gave excellent renditions of their numbers and the chorus was exceptionally well balanced and sang well.

FROM DR. MORGAN.

Manager Fenberg is in receipt of the following communication from Dr. W. H. Morgan, health commissioner.

Dear Mr. Fenberg: Will you kindly have the following warning placed on the screens of both your theaters, also newspapers and printed in your theater program.

"One who has a constant and uncontrollable inclination to cough or sneeze should not remain in a crowded public place. Unless the face is covered with a handkerchief, coughing or sneezing is dangerous to every neighbor reached by the spray."

"Well persons will be benefited by the diversion of the theater; sick persons should be at home—for their own good and for the public good."

"Fear is a great factor in lowering resistance. Go about your affairs calmly and unafraid."

GRAND.

The weighing of two misshapen, smashed pieces of lead which had been bullets and the scientific deduction therefrom proving the innocence of one man, and guilt of another of

This production, with Earle Williams playing the stellar role, will be the feature attraction at the Grand theater today and tomorrow.

Mr. Williams plays the role of Shaler Spencer, a man who once has been a brilliant lawyer, but who, as the story opens, finds himself a defunct, disheartened, hopeless derelict. He is forced to confess to his younger brother that because of his neglect the fortune of both of them has been lost.

LYRIC.

At the Lyric this week Ed M. Moore presents The Sweet Day Company, a musical comedy company above the average, featuring Russ Forth a comedian of unique technique and ability. The bill "The Irish Poet" deals with the efforts of an impoverished gambler to recoup his fortunes by introducing a very wealthy parvenue, Mrs. Astor, to an Irish count who is a poet. At the last moment the count fails to arrive and the gambler hires an Irish emigrant to impersonate the count. The bill closes with a musical wedding ceremony which is very novel and amusing. The show is clean up-to-date with special scenery and beautiful wardrobes. The vaudeville feature of the evening was James and James in a double song number which took several encores.

EXPRESS WAGONS CALLED TO CARRY W. U. MESSAGES

Scarcity of Messenger Boys Tests Ingenuity of Manager Rhodes—Plays Messenger Himself.

Robert L. "Dusty" Rhodes, manager of the Western Union Telegraph company in this city has troubles of his own. Some days he has messenger boys to deliver messages and some days he does not and then he starts out on a bike and endeavors to deliver all that he can himself.

Manager Rhodes pays $2 per day to young lads to act in the capacity of messenger, and they are hard to get even at that figure. Some years ago, he used to have a waiting list of boys anxious to serve the Western Union in the capacity of messenger at $15 and $20 per month, but that day has passed.

The other morning when the streets were covered with ice no messenger boys reported and the messages began piling up in his office and Manager Rhodes started calling taxi cabs at $30 a m. and finally succeeded in securing one at 11 a. m. He had several messages delivered for which he received the sum of 35 cents each and then he paid out 50 cents for each message delivered.

The taxi could only deliver a limited number of messages and then "Dusty" hit upon a bright scheme. He went to the express wagon stand at the west entrance to the court house park and engaged several to call at the office in the Arcade to deliver packages and as each reported he handed the driver a telegram for delivery.

The manager then buckled on his ice creepers and grabbed a handful of messages and worked up to 5 o'clock as special delivery boy. Many who received their messages on time that day had no idea of the trials and tribulations of managing a telegraph office in the winter time, especially during disagreeable weather.

RODENTS DAMAGE FRUIT TREES, REPORTS INDICATE

Fruit trees have been damaged this winter by mice and rabbits, according to reports to the county farm bureau. Even though wire protectors have been placed around trees, these rodents when food is scarce gnaw the bark from the trees in small patches by eating between the meshes of the protectors. Fruit growers say the greatest damage is noticed in small orchards where owners grow fruit as a side line and give little attention to the trees. Very good results have been attained, Farm Agent Mowls says, by wrapping with old gunny sack, being careful to begin close to the ground and wrap high enough to prevent rabbits from reaching above the wrapping. Severe damage may be locked for even from now on as well as in the middle of the winter.

Bridge grafting, covering the wound with grafting wax, moist clay or fresh cow manure securely held in place with an old sack are remedies recommended by the farm agent for injured trees.

It has been found that field mice have been operating under the snow but above the ground this year. Poison baits are sometimes used to destroy the mice if in large numbers. Mounding up the soil around the young tree is also a good preventative.

HINDENBERG WANTED ON CRUELTY CHARGE

London, Feb. 17.—The German press, as quoted in a dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company from Copenhagen, declares that Field Marshal von Hindenburg's surrender is demanded by the allies not only because he is alleged to have said "the most cruel war is the most humane, because it leads to an end," but also because of his responsibility for the destruction of property during the German retreat.

The field marshal is also charged jointly with General Ludendorff with responsibility for the deportation of civilians and the organization of civilian labor corps in which thousands of girls are alleged to have been handed over to virtual slavery with women of doubtful character, and whipped and imprisoned if they refused to work.

There are no cuss words in the Japanese tongue. And yet the Japs claim to be a modern and civilized nation. And what success can they hope to have with the Missouri mules they are importing?—Houston Post.
